

Industry Prequalification

Introduction

Prequalification is a joint industry initiative, involving Transit New Zealand (Transit), the New Zealand Contractor's Federation (NZCF), and Roadking New Zealand (RNZ) in which Transit calls for contractors to apply for registration as a prequalified

Prequalification The Journey.

Following the initial idea to develop a prequalification scheme mid 2000, the project underwent significant investigation and development, culminating in the extension of the trial in July 2005 for a further 2 years .

Stage One

Application and Tendering Processes

The Prequalification scheme will mean that contractors who repeatedly perform any anomalies (in particular the confirming letters) and endorse the application in their report to the Prequalification Evaluation team (PET).

Health and Safety System Requirements